First State PAC meeting attended by Rahul Gandhi, K C Venugopal, D K Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah and other leaders | EXPRESS

Rahul attends state Cong's first PAC meet in Hubballi

Aims to gear up the party for elections and chalk out poll strategy

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @Hubballi

AHEAD of the 2013 Assembly election, the Political Affairs Committee (PAC) of the state Congress met here on Tuesday in the presence of party senior leader Rahul Gandhi, who was in the city to take part in Siddaramasava, the 75th birth-day celebration of CLP leader Siddaramaiah to be held in Davanagere on Wednesday.

The 35-member PAC was constituted recently following a decision taken at the Udaipur Chintan Baithak and it met for the first time after its formation. AICC General Secretary (organisation) KC Venugopal chaired the meeting of the committee, which has been formed to prepare the party for the election and chalk out the poll strategy.

After the meeting, Venugopal said, "We had a fruitful discussion for the 2023 elections. On every important issue, PAC meets frequently and takes collective decisions."

He said Rahul appealed to the leaders to go aggressively

GREAT JOY TO BE IN KARNATAKA: RAHUL

Immediately after landing, Rahul shared his views about Hubballi visit on his social media page. "It is always a great joy to be back in Karnataka. The warmth & hospitality here is humbling. Look forward to interacting with the people of the state and learning from their experiences. The path to Karnataka's prosperity is through progressive, people-centric policies. We are committed to bring that to the doorstep of every household," he tweeted.

against the misrule of the BJP governments in the state and Centre. The leaders were asked to stand united and fight against anti-people and anti-democratic policies of the Union and state governments.

"We have to work for the people and convince them that there will be a people-centric government in Karnataka. The party is chalking out programmes to address their concerns. All leaders opined that Congress should fight united against the BJP governments.

The meeting decided to drive out the corrupt government in Karnataka in 2023," he added.

He said, "The leaders were asked not to air different opinions inside or outside the party forum and not to discuss any internal issues in public."

Asked whether the leaders were asked not to raise the leadership issue till the election campaign starts, he said, "There is no leadership issue... no talk on that at all. As per the party's policy, the MLAs and the leadership will decide on it after winning the election," he said.

Sources, aware of the meeting details, said that Venugopal expressed his displeasure over party leaders' out-of-turn comments in public over the chief minister's post and censured the leaders. Rahul, however, did not comment on the issue.

Senior leaders Mallikarjun Kharge, KH Muniyappa and AICC state in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala did not attend the meeting due to personal reasons. Except for these, the majority of the PAC members attended the deliberations.

Military aspirants from rural areas get free training

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

RETIRED soldiers in Shirol village of Gadag district have come together to train youths who aspire to join the security forces and recent military recruitment scheme, Agnipath. Their aim is to push more youths from the rural parts of Gadag into the Indian military establishments.

The initiative started with social activities in Shirol village by the Youth Sainik Friends Association (YSFA), set up by retired soldiers. They started to train the youth for competitive exams but it came to a halt with the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic. From this year, a retired soldier Siddu Gajari started free physical training for the rural youth who wanted to join the military.

As this initiative got a boost from several associations of retired security personnel through social media, many youths from Haveri, Dharwad, Koppal and Bagalkot districts came forward for the training. Villagers are helping them by offering free accommodation. Meanwhile, Yachchareshwara Mutt seer has promised to provide them free lunch and dinner. As of now, the trainees are arranging for food according to their trainer's advise.

The aspirants are divided into two teams depending on their capabilities and the YSFA members are training them as per their requirements. Extra emphasis is being given to those who are a bit weak and need additional care so that they can prepare for the tough competition in the selection process.

YSFA members said: "We found out that many candidates from rural areas fail as they do not know how to prepare for physical and written tests. Hence, we started this free training programme. We will soon start competitive exam coaching and seer of Yachchareshwara Mutt will arrange for experts to coach these aspirants."

The seer said: "We will soon start free coaching classes. Many youths who want to join military services cannot afford to stay in towns and get coaching. We are also starting free coaching for UPSC and KPSC and other competitive exams to give a platform to rural aspirants."

We found out that many candidates from rural areas fail as they do not know how to prepare for physical and written tests. Hence, we started this free training

Govt provides smartphones but forgets to recharge them

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Koppal

AS many as 1,850 government smartphones (mobile phones), provided to anganwadi workers in Koppal district are already dysfunctional for want of grants even to recharge them.

As anganwadi workers discharge a vital role in ensuring proper implementation of various programmes of woman and child development department such as addressing malnutrition, IMR and MMR, the State government provided smart phones to them in December 2020. Anganwadi workers are supposed to update various facts and figures of these schemes to higher-ups almost every day. These smartphones are supposed to be recharged regularly by the government but for the past four months, they have not been recharged for want of funds.

Minister for Women and Child Development Halappa Achar representing Yelburga assembly constituency in Koppal district maintained that grants for recharging government smartphones of anganwadi workers are supposed to be ensured by the Union government. However, the State government is bearing the cost of ensuring grants for the same. Grants have been provided to as many as seven districts in this direction and the same will be ensured to all other districts in due course, he said.

The department director G Padmavati told TNIE on Wednesday that grants for Koppal district to recharge smartphones of anganwadi workers have not been provided from past four months and it has been brought to the notice of the department higher-ups. Anganwadi workers are in a fix when it comes to proper implementation of crucial schemes with respect to the health of expectant mothers and their post-partum period, besides that of children. Anganwadi workers are not being ensured honourarium on a regular basis either, said an official of the department. In all, the district has 1,850 anganwadi centres and the same number of workers in addition to their assistants.
